ammor architecture, darren brown interior design, and studio 250 design

site Jackson, Wyoming

recap Rugged materials claim the exterior of this gut renovation, like the rustic lumber siding salvaged from Montana corrals. The palette gets increasingly refined as you migrate inside: see the living room's colorful Italian 1950s multi-arm pendant and Charlotte Perriand-inspired cabinetry, as well as the newly expanded windows that frame painterly American West views. ➤
